

Regular Rulemaking and ORR Review

While this is the official process outlined in Executive Order 15-07, ORR frequently works with agencies early by reviewing draft regulations and assisting with the development of regulatory analysis.

Direct Final Rulemaking and ORR Review

While this is the official process outlined in Executive Order 15-07, ORR frequently works with agencies early by reviewing draft regulations and assisting with the development of regulatory analysis.

Need ORR clearance to publish regulations

up to 30 days

30 days

Agencies submit to ORR via online form. ORR reviews initial regulatory language/analysis and may reach out to internal stakeholders.

Phase managed largely by the Secretary of State's office. A regulation is published and the agency must wait 30 days for any member of the public to object.

No Objections Received
Regulation takes effect immediately.

Objection(s) Received
Must restart rulemaking process using regular rulemaking.

Emergency Rulemaking and ORR Review

While this is the official process outlined in Executive Order 15-07, ORR frequently works with agencies early by reviewing draft regulations and assisting with the development of regulatory analysis.

up to 30 days

in effect for 120 days

Agencies submit to ORR via online form. ORR reviews regulatory language/analysis and may reach out to internal stakeholders. While ORR has 30 days, emergency regulation reviews are expedited.

Agency must get signatures of agency head and governor's designee (currently executive counsel). Regulation is technically in effect once signatures are obtained, but must still be filed with the Secretary of State's office.

Optional Renewal

up to 30 days

in effect for 60 days

Agencies submit to ORR via online form. ORR reviews regulatory language/analysis and may reach out to internal stakeholders. While ORR has 30 days, emergency regulation reviews are expedited.

Agency must get signatures of agency head and governor's designee (currently executive counsel). Regulation is technically in effect once signatures are obtained, but must still be filed with the Secretary of State's office.